Dear Mikki:

You are one dynamite, effective speaker!

I have had the pleasure of observing you in an afternoon presentation before a standing room only crowd at the Annual Meeting of the Million Dollar Round Table. I've also been a co-presenter with you on the main stage in Jerusalem, Israel where you easily were the "star" of the show.

You have a unique ability to tie together real life stories with common sense approaches to business challenges that lead the listener to a conclusion which is achievable. At the end of your presentations, people feel good about themselves and about their prospects for success in life.

As a past president of the Million Dollar Round Table, I have had the opportunity to review and listen to hundreds of speakers. You are, unquestionably, one of the best.

May your future travels take you to all who need to listen to your message.

Sincerely,

William T. O'Donnell
